PREFACE

HILE we fing the Praises of our God in his Church, we are employ'd in that part of Worship which of all others is the nearest a-kin to Heaven; and 'tis pity that this of all others should be perform'd the worst upon Earth. The Gospel brings us nearer to the heavenly State than all the former Dispensations of God amongst Men: And in these last Days of the Gospel we are brought almost within fight of the Kingdom of our Lord; yet we are very much unacquainted with the Songs of the New Jerusalem, and unpractic'd in the Work of Praise. To see the dull Indifference, the negligent and the thoughtless Air, that fits upon the Faces of a whole Affembly, while the Pfalm is on their Lips, might, tempt even a charitable Observer to suspect the Fervency of inward Religion; and 'tis much to be fear'd that the Minds of most of the Worshippers are absent or unconcern'd. Perhaps the Modes of Preaching in the best Churches still want some Degrees of Reformation, nor are the Methods of Prayer so perfeet as to stand in need of no Correction or Improvement: But of all our Religious So nag'd. That very Action which should elevate us to the most delightful and divine Sensations, doth not only flat our Devotion, but too often awakens our Regret, and touches all the Springs of Uneafinels within us. I have been long convinc'd, that one great-Oceasion of this Evil arises from the Matter and Words to which we confine all our Songs. Some of 'em are almost opposite to the Spirit of the Gospel: Many of them toreign to the State of the New-Testament, and widely different from the present Circamstances of Christians. Hence it comes to pass, that when spiritual Affections are excited within us, and our Sculs are rais'd a little above this Earth in the beginning of a Psalm, we are check'd on a sudden in our Ascent toward Heaven, by some Expressions: that are more suited to the Days of Carnal. Ordinances, and fit only to be sung in the Worldly Sandluary. When we are just entring into an Evangelick Frame by some of the Glories of the Gospel presented in the brightest Figures of Judaism, yet the very next Line perhaps which the Clerk parcels out unto us, hath something in it so extreamly Jewish and cloudy, that darkens our Sight of God the Saviour: Thus by keeping too close to David in the House of God, the Vail of Moses is thrown over our Hearts. While we are kindling into Divine Love by the Meditations of the loving Kindness of God, and the Multitude of his tender Mercies, within 1 few Verles some dreadful Curse again ? Men is propos'd to our Lips; That God would add Iniquity unto their Iniquity, not let 'em come into bes Righteousnus, but blot 'em out of the Book of the Living, Pial. 69. 26, 27, 28. which is so contrary to the New Commandment of Loving our Enemies ; and even under the Old Testament is best accounted for, by refering it to the Spirit of Prophetick Vengeance. Some Sentences of the Pfalmist that are expressive of the Temper of our own Hearts, and the Circumstances of our Lives, may compose our Spirits to Seriousness, and allure us to a sweet Retirement within our s felves, but we meet with a following Line, which so peculiarly belongs but to one Action or Hour of the Life of David or of Asaph, that breaks off our Song in the midst; our Consciences are affrighted, lest we should speak a Falshood unto God : Thus the Powers of our Souls are shock'd on a sudden, and our Spirits ruffled before we have time to roflect, that this may be sung only as a Hi-ftory of ancient Saints: And, perhaps, in some Instances, that Salvo is hardly sufficient neither. Befides, it almost always spoils the Devotion by breaking the uniform Thread of it. For while our Lips and our Hearts run on sweetly together, applying the Words to our own Case, there is something of Divine Delight in it: But at once we are forced to turn off the Application abruptly, and our Lips speak nothing but the Heart of David: Thus our own Hearts are as it were forbid the Pursuit of the Song, and then the Harmony and the Worship grow dull of meer necessity...

vi The PREFACE.

Many Ministers and many private Chrislians have long groan'd under this Inconvenience, and have wish'd rather than attempted a Reformation: At their importunate and repeated Requests I have for some Years past devoted many Hours of leisure to this Service. Far be it from my Thoughts to lay aside the Book of Psalms in publick Worship; sew can pretend so great a Value for them as my self: It is the most Artful, most Devotional and Divine Collection of Poely; and nothing can be supposed more proper to raise a pious Soul to Heaven than some parts of that Book; never was a piece of experimental Divinity fo nobly written, and so justly reverenced and admired: But it must be acknowledged still, that there are a thousand Lines in it which were nonmade for a Church in our Days, to assume as its own: There are also many Deficiencies of Light and Glory, which our Lord Jesus and his Apostles have supply'd in the Writings of the New Testament; and with this Advantage I have compos'd these Spiritual Songs which are now prefented to the World. Nor is the Attempt vain-glorious or presuming; for in respect of clear Evangelick Knowledge, The least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than all the Sewish Prophets, Mat. 11. 11.

Now let me give a short Account of the following Composures.

The greatest Part of 'em are suited to the perly be used in a religious Assembly, and not one of 'em but may well be adapted to some Seasons, either of private or of publick Worship. The most frequent Tempers and Changes of our Spirit, and Conditions of our Life are here copied, and the Breathings of our Piety exprest according to the Variety of our Passions, our Love, our Fear, our Hope, our Defire, our Sorrow, our Wonder, and our Joy, as they are refined into Devotion, and act under the Influence and Conduct of the Bleffed Spirit; all converting with God the Father by the new and living Way of Access to the Throne, even the Perfon and the Mediation of our Lord Jesus Christ. To him also, even to the Lamb that was flain and now lives, I have address'd many a Song; for thus doth the holy Scripture instruct and teach us to worship, in the various short Patterns of Christian Psalmody described in the Revelations. I have avoided the more obscure and controverted Points of Christianity, that we might all obey the Direction of the Word of God, and fing his Praises with Understanding, Psal. 47. 7. The Contentious and Distinguishing Words of Sects and Parties are secluded, that whole Affemblies might affift at the Harmony, and different Churches join in the same Worship without Offence.

If any Expressions occur to the Reader that favour of an Opinion different from his own, yet he may observe these are generally such as are capable of an extensive Sense, and may be used with a charitable Lastitude. I think

'tis most agreeable, that what is provided for publick Singing, shou'd give to sincere Consciences as little Disturbance as possible. However, where any unpleasing Word is found, he that leads the Worship may substitute a better; for (Blessed be God) we are not consined to the Words of any Man in our publick Solemnities.

The whole Book is written in four forts of Metre, and fitted to the most common Tunes. I have seldom permitted a Stop in the middle of a Line, and seldom lest the end of a Line without one, to comport a little with the unhappy mixture of Reading and Singing, which cannot presently be reformed. The Metaphors are generally funk to the Level of vulgar Capacities. I have aim'd at ease of Numbers and smoothness of Sound, and endeavoured to make the Sense plain and obvious. If the Verse appears fo gentle and flowing as to incur the Censure of Feebleness, I may honeftly affirm, that fometimes it cost me Labour to make it so : Some of the Beauties of Poefy are neglected, and some wilfully defaced: I have thrown out the Lines that were too sonorous, and have given an Allay to the Verse, left a more exalted Turn of Thought or Language should darken or disturb the Devotion of the weakest Souls. But hence it comes to pass, that I have been forc'd to lay afide many Hymns after they were finish'd, and utterly exclude them from this Volume, because of the bolder Figures of Speech that crouded themfelves into the Verse, and a more unconfin'd confin'd Variety of Number, which I could not easily restrain.

These, with many other Divine and Moral - Composures, are now printed in a second Edition of the Poems entitled Hora Lyrica; for as in that Book I have endeavour'd to please and profit the politer Part of Mankind, without offending the plainer fort of Christians, so in this it has been my Labour to promote the pious Entertainment of Souls truly serious, even of the meanest Capacity, and at the same time (if possible) not to give Disgust to Persons of richer Sense, and nicor - Education 5 and, I hope, in the present Volume, this End will appear to be pursu'd with much greater Happiness than in the first Impression of it, tho' the World assures me the former has not much Reason to complain. The whole is divided into Three Books. In the First, I have borrow'd the Sense and much of the Form of the Song from fonie particular Portions of Scripture, and have paraphras'd most of the Doxologies in the New Testament, that contain any thing in 'em peculiarly Evangelical, and many Parts of the Old Testament also, that have a Reference to the Times of the Messal. In these I expect to be often censur'd for a togeligious Observance of the Words of Scripture, whereby the Verse is weaken'd and debas'd according to the Judgment of the Criticks: But as my whole Design was to aid the Devotion of Christians, so more especially in this Part: And Jam satisfy'd I

The PREFACE.

X. Ihall hereby attain two Ends, (viz.) affift the Worship of all serious Minds, to whom the Expressions of Scripture are ever dear and delightful, and gratify the Taste and In-clination of those who think nothing must be fung unto God but the Translations of his own Word. Yet you will always find in this Paraphrase dark Expressions enlighten'd, and the Levitical Ceremonies and Hebrew Forms of Speech chang'd into the Worship of the Gospel, and explain'd in the Language of our Time and Nation; and what would not bear such an Alteration is omitted and laid aside. After this manner should I rejoyce to see a good Part of the Book of Psalma fitted for the Use of our Churches, and David converted into a Christian: But because I cannot persuade others to attempt this glorious Work, I have suffered my self to be persuaded to begin it, and have, thro' Divine Goodness, already proceeded half way thro'.

The Second Part confilts of Hymns, whofe Form is of meer Human Composure, but I hope the Sense and Materials will always appear Divine. I might have brought some Text or other, and apply'd it to the Margin of every Verse, if this Method had been as useful as it was easy. If there be any Poems in the Book that are capable of giving Delight to Persons of a more resin'd Taste nd polite Education, perhaps they may be ound in this Part; but except they lay afide the Humour of Crizicism, and enter into a devout Frame, every Ode here already despairs.

spairs of pleasing. I confess my self to have been too often tempted away from the more Spiritual Designs 1 propos'd, by some gay and flowery Expressions that gratify'd the Fancy; the bright Images too often prevail'd above the Fire of Divine Affection; and the Light exceeded the Heat: Yet I hope, in many of them the Reader will find that Devotion dictated the Song, and the Head and Hand were nothing but Interpreters and Secretaries to the Heart: Nor is the Magnificence or Boldness of the Figures comparable to that Divine License which is found in the Eighteenth and Sixty Eighth Pfalms, several Chapters of Job, and other Poetical Parts of Scripture: And in this Respect I may hope to escape the Reproof of those who pay a sacred Reverence to the Holy Bible.

I have prepar'd the Third Bart only for the Celebration of the Lord's Supper, that, in Imitation of our Blessed Saviour, we might fing an Hymn after we have partaken. of the Bread and Wine. Here you will find some Paraphrases of Scripture, and some other Compositions. There are above an Hundred Hymns in the Two former Parts that may very properly be used in this Ordinance, and sometimes perhaps appear more. suitable than any of these last: But there are Expressions generally us'd in these which confine 'em only to the Table of the Lord; and therefore I have distinguish'd'and set 'em by themselves.

xii The PREFACE.

If the Lord who inhabits the Praises of Israel, shall refuse to smile upon this Attempt for the Reformation of Psalmody amongst the Churches, yet I humbly hope that his Bleffed Spirit will make these Composures useful to private Christians; and if they may but attain the Honour of being esteem'd pious Meditations, to affist the devout and the retir'd Soul in the Exercises of Love, Faith and Joy, 'twill be a valuable Compensation of my Labours: My Heart shall rejoyce at the Notice of it, and my God shall receive the Glory. This was my Hope and Vow in the first Publication, and 'tis now my Duty to acknowledge to him with Thankfulness, how useful he has made these Compositions already, to the Comfort and Edification of Societies, and of private Perfons; and upon the same Grounds I have a. better Prospect and a bigger Hope of much more Service to the Church by the large Improvements of this Edition, if the Lord who dwells in Zion, Thall favour it with his con-tinu'd Bleffing.

There are almost 150 new Hymns added, and one or more suited to every. Theme and Subject in Divinity. Having found by Converse with Christians, what Words

Words or Lines in the former made them less useful, I have not only made various Corrections in them, but have endeavour'd to avoid the same Mistakes in all the new Composures. And whereas many of the former were too particularly adapted to special Frames and Seasons of the Christian Life, almost all that are added have a more general and extensive Sense, and may be assumed and sung by most Persons in a worshipping Congregation.

2. About 14 or 15 Psalms that were translated in the first Edition, are left out in this, because I intend (if God afford Life and Assistance) to convert the biggest Part of the Book of Psalms, into Spiritual Songs for the Use of Christians; yet the same Numbers are still apply'd to the Hymns, that there might be no Consusion between the first and second Edition.

3. In all the longer Hymns, and in some of the shorter, there are several Stanza's included in Crotchets thus, [], which Stanza's may be lest out in Singing, without diffurbing the Sense. Those Parts are also included: in such Crotchess, which contain Words too Poetical for meaner Understandings, or too particular for whole Congregations to sing. But after all, its best in publick Psalmody, for the Minister to chuse the particular Parts and Verses of the Psalm or Hymn that is to be sung, rather than leave it to the Judgment or casual Determination of him that leads the Tune.

xiv The PREFACE.

4. The Essay concerning the Improvement of Psalmody by the use of Evangelical Hymns, which took up many Pages of the last Edition, is quite lest out here, partly lest the Bulk should swell too much, but chiefly because I intend a more complete Treatise of Psalmody, in which the Substance of that Essay will be interspersed, and I hope with fuller Evidence of the Duty of singing new Songs to him that sits upon the Throne, since the Lamb is ascended thither too.

April, 1709.

Note, Since the Sixth Edition of this Book the Author has finished what he had so long promis'd, (viz.) The Psalms of David, imisated in the Language of the New Testament; which the World seems to have received with Approbation, by the Sale of some Thousands in a Year's time. There the Reader will find those Psalms which were lest out of all the latter Editions of these Hymns, inserted in their proper Places. It is presumed, That that Book, in Conjunction with this, may appear to be such a sufficient Provision for Psalmody, as to answer most Occasions of the Christian Life: And, if an Author's own Opinion may be taken, he esteems it the greatest Work that ever he has publish'd, on ever hopes to do, for the Use of the Churches.

BOOK I.

Collected from the Holy Scriptures.

- I. A New Song to the Lamb that was flain, Rev. 5. 6, 8, 9, 10, 12.
 - Ehold the Glories of the Lamb
 Amidst his Father's Throne:
 Prepare new Honours for his Name,
 And Songs before unknown.
- 2 Let Elders worship at his Feet, The Church adore around, With Vials full of Odours Iweer, And Harps of Iweeter Sound.
- 3 Those are the Prayers of the Saints, And those the Hymns they raile;

Jesus is kind to our Complaints, He loves to hear-our Praise.

[4 Eternal Fathers who shall look Into thy secret Will? Who but the Son should take that Book.

And open ev'ry Seal?

The Son deserves it well;

Lo, in his Hand the Sov'reign Keys Of Heav'n, and Death, and Hell.]

- Now to the Lamb that once was flain, Be endless Blessings paid, Salvation, Glory, Joy remain For ever on thy Head.
- 7 Thou hast redeem'd our Souls with Blood, Hast set the Pris'ners free, Hast made us Kings and Priests to God, And we shall reign with thee.
- 8 The Worlds of Nature and of Grace Are put beneath thy Pow'r;

Then shorten these delaying Days, And bring the promis'd Hour.

- 3 E'er Sin was born, or Satan fell, He led the Host of Morning-Stars 6 (Thy Generation who can tell, Or count the Number of thy Years?)
- 4 But lo, he leaves those Heavenly Forms, The Word descends and dwells in Clay, That he may hold Converse with Worms, Dress in such feeble Flesh as they-
- 5 Mortals with Joy beheld his Face, Th' Eternal Father's only Son; How full of Truth! how full of Grace! When thro'his Eyes the Godhead shone!
- 6 Arch Angels leave their high Abode, To learn new Mystries here, and tell The Loves of our descending God, The Glories of Emanuel.
- III. The Nativity of Christ, Luke 1. 30, &c. Luke 2. 10, &c.
 - BEhold, the Grace appears,
 The Promise is sulfill'd;
 Mary the wondrous Virgin bears,
 And Jesus is the Child.

[2 The Lord, the Highest God, Calls him his Only Son;

He bids him rule the Lands abroad, And gives him David's Throne.

3 O'er Jacob shall he reign With a peculiar Sway;

The Nations shall his Grace obtain, His Kingdom ne'er decay.]

4 To bring the glorious News, A heaving Form appears;
He tells the Shepherds of their Joys,
And banishes their Fears.

5 Go, humble Swains, said he, To David's City fly; The promis'd Infant born to Day, Doth in a Manger lye.

6 With Looks and Hearts serene
Go wist Christ your King;

And strait a flaming Troop was seen; The Shepherds heard them sing.

- VI. Triumph over Death, Job 19. 25, 26, 27.
 - Reat God, I own thy Sentence just,
 And Nature must decay,
 I yield my Body to the Dutt,
 Todwell with Fellow-clay.
 - 2 Yet Faith may triumph o'er the Grave, And trample on the Tombs: My Jelus, my Redeemer lives.

My Jesus, my Redeemer lives, My God, my Saviour comes.

CXLV. Christ and Aaron, taken from Heb. 7, & 9.

- JESUS, in thee our Eyes behold
 A thousand Glories more
 Than the rich Gems and polish'd Gold
 The Sons of Auron wore.
- They first their own Burnt-Off'rings
 To purge themselves from Sin;
 Thy Life was pure without a Spot,
 And all thy Nature clean.
- [3 Fresh Blood as constant as the Day
 Was on their Altar spilt;
 But thy one Off ring takes away
 For ever all our Guilt.]

[4 Their Priesthood ran thro' several Hands,
For mortal was their Race;
Thy never changing Office stands,
Eternal as thy Days.]

[5 Once in the Circuit of a Year, With Blood but not his own,

Aaron within the Vail appears,

Before the Golden Throne.

6 But Christ by his own pow'rful Blood Afcends above the Skies, And in the Presence of our God, Shows his own Sacrifice.

7 Jesus, the King of Glory, reigns On Sion's heav'nly Hill; Looks like a Lamb that has been slain,

And wears his Priesthood still.

8 He ever lives to interceed

Before his Father's Face: Give him, my Soul, thy Cause to plead, Nor doubt the Father's Grace.

CXLVI. Characters of Christ, borrowed from inanimate Things in Scripture.

r GO, worship at Immanuel's Feet, See in his Face what Wonders meet; Earth is too narrow to express His Worth, his Glory, or his Grace.

[2 The whole Creation can afford But fome faint Shadows of my Lord:

Na-

Nature to make his Beauties known Must mingle Colours not her own.]

[3 Is he compar'd to Wine or Bread?

Dear Lord, our Souls would thus be fed;

That Flesh, that dying Blood of thine,

Is Bread of Life, is heav'nly Wine.]

[4 Is he a Tree? The World receives
Salvation from his healing Leaves:
That righteous Branch, that fruitful Bough
Is David's Root, and Offspring too.]

[5 Is he a Rose? Not Sharon yields Such Fragrancy in all her Fields: Or if the Lilly he assume, The Valleys bless the rich Persume.]

[6 Is he a Vine? His heav'nly Root Supplies the Boughs with Life and Fruit: O let a lasting Union join My Soul the Branch to Christ the Vine!]

[7 Is he the Head? Each Member lives, And owns the vital Pow'rs he gives; The Saints below, and Saints above, Join'd by his Spirit and his Love.]

[8 Is he a Fountain? There I bathe, And heal the Plague of Sin and Death: These Waters all my Soul renew, And cleanse my sported Garments too.]

[9 Is he a Fire? He'll purge my Dross,
But the true Gold sustains no Loss;
Like a Refiner shall he sit,
And tread the Refuse, with his Feet.]

TIO Is

The Rock of Ages never moves;
Yet the sweet Streams that from him flow
Attendus all the Desart thro'.

[11 Is he a Way? He leads to God, The Path is drawn in Lines of Blood; There would I walk with Hope and Zeal, Till I arrive at Sion's Hill.]

Liz Is he a Door? I'll enter in;
Behold the Passures large and green;
A Paradise divinely fair,
None but the Sheep have freedom there:]

[13] Is he defign'd a Corner-Stone,
For Men to build their Heav'n upon?
I'll make him my Foundation too,
Nor fear the Plots of Hell below.]

[14 Is he a Temple? I adore Th' indwelling Majesty and Pow'r; And still to this most hely Place When e'er I pray, I turn my Face.]

Piercing the Shades with dawning Light;
I know his Glories from afar,
I know the Bright, the Morning Star.

[16 Is he a Sun? His Beams are Grace, His Course is Joy and Righteousness: Nations rejoyce when he appears To chase their Clouds, and dry their Tears.

Vhere Storms and Darknels never rife.

There he displays his Pow'rs abroad, And Shines, and Reigns th' Incarnate God.]

18 Nor Earth, nor Seas, nor Sun, nor Stars, Nor Heav'n his full Resemblance bears; His Beauties we can never trace, Till we behold him Face to Face.

CXLVII. The Names and Titles of Christ, from several Scriptures.

[1 'TIS from the Treasures of his Word I borrow Titles for my Lord; Nor Art, nor Nature can supply Sufficient Forms of Majesty.

- 2 Bright Image of the Father's Face, Shining with undiminish'd Rays; Th' Eternal God's Eternal Son, The Heir, and Partner of his Throne.]
- 3 The King of Kings, the Lord most high Writes his own Name upon his Thigh: He wears a Garment dipt in Blood, And breaks the Nations with his Rod.
- 4 Where Grace can neither melt nor move The Lamb resents his injur'd Love, Awakes his Wrath without delay, And Judah's Lion tears the Prey.
- 5 But when for Works of Peace he comes, What winning, Titles he affumes? Light of the World, and Life of Men ; Nor bears those Characters in vain.

- With tender Pity in his Heart
 He acts the Mediator's Part;
 A Friend and Brother he appears,
 And well fulfils the Names he wears.
- At length the Judge his Throne ascends, Divides the Rebels from his Friends, And Saints in full Fruition prove His rich Variety of Love.

CXLVIII. The same, as the 148th Psalm.

Ith chearful Voice I fing
The Titles of my Lord,
And borrow all the Names
Of Honour from his Word;
Nature and Art

Where should the dying Members rest,
But with the dying Head?

5 Thence he arose, ascending high, And shew'd our Feet the Way; Up to the Lord our Flesh shall fly, At the great Rising Day.

Then let the last loud Trumpet sound,
And bid our Kindred rise;
Awake ye Nations under Ground,

- 2 This the old Rebel Angels knew, And Satan fell beneath thy Frown: Thine Arrows struck the Traytor thro', And weighty Vengeance sunk him down.
- 3 This Sodom felt, and feels it still, And roars beneath th' eternal Load, With endless Burnings who can dwell, Or bear the Fury of a God?
- Tremble, ye Sinners, and submit, Throwdown your Arms before his Throne, Bend your Heads low beneath his Feet, Or his strong Hand shall crush you down.
- 5 And ye, blest Saints, that love him too, With Rev'rence bow before his Name, Thus all his heav'nly Servants do: God is a bright and burning Flame.

XXIII. The Sight of God and Christ in Heaven.

- Descend from Heav'n, immortal Dove, Stoop down and take us on thy Wings, And mount and bear us far above The Reach of these inferior Things.
- 2 Beyond, beyond this lower Sky, Up where eternal Ages roll, Where folid Pleasures never die, And Fruits immortal seast the Soul.
- O for a Sight, a pleafing Sight
 Of our Almighty Father's Throne!
 There fits our Saviour crown'd with Light,
 Cloath'd in a Body like our own.
- 4 Adoring Saints around him stand, And Thrones and Pow'rs before him fall; The God shines gracious thro' the Man, And sheds sweet Glories on them all.
- While to their golden Harps they fing, And fit on ev'ry heav'nly Hill, And spread the Triumphs of their King.
- When shall the Day, dear Lord, appear That I shall mount to dwell above, And stand and bow amongst 'em there, And view thy Face, and sing, and love.

XXIV. The Evil of Sin visible in the Fall of Angels and Men.

(Skies,

WHEN the great Builder arch'd the
And form'd all Nature with a Word,
The joyful Cherubs tun'd his Praise,
And every bending Throne ador'd.

2 High in the midft of all the Throng Satan a tall Arch-Angel far,
* Amongst the Morning Stars he fung Till Sin destroy'd his heav'nly State.

- [3 'Twas Sin that hurl'd him from his Throne, Groveling in Fire the Rebel lyes: † How art thou sunk in Darkness down, Son of the Morning, from the Skies.]
- And thus our two first Parents stood Till Sin defil'd the happy Place; They lost their Garden and their God, And ruin'd all their unborn Race.
- [5 So sprung the Plague from Adam's Bower, And spread Destruction all abroad; Sin, the curst Name, that in one Hour Spoil'd six Days Labour of a God]
- Tremble, my Soul, and mourn for Grief, That such a Foe should seize thy Breast; Fly to thy Lord for quick Relief; O may he slay this treacherous Guest.

^{*} Job 38. 7. † Ifa. 14. 12.

B. II. Spiritual Songs. 151

7 Then to thy Throne, victorious King, Then to thy Throne our Shouts shall rise, Thine everlasting Arm we fing, For Sin the Montter bleeds and dies.

XXV. Complaining of Spiritual Sloth.

- MY drowey Powers, why fleep ye so?

 Awake my fluggish Soul!

 Nothing has half thy Work to do,

 Yet nothing's half so dull.
- 2 The little Ants for one poor Grain Labour, and tugg, and strive, Yet we who have a Heaven t' obtain How negligent we live!
- We for whose Sake all Nature stands, And Stars their Courses move; We for whose Guard the Angel-Bands Come flying from above;
- 4. We for whom God the Son came down, And labour'd for our Good,

How careless to secure that Crown-He purchas'd with his Blood?

And never act our Parts?

Come, holy Dove, from th' heavenly Hill; And fit and warm our Hearts.

6 Then shall our active Spirits move,
Upward our Souls shall rife:
With Hands of Faith and Wings of Love
We'll fly and take the Prize.

XXVI. God Invisible.

- TORD, we are blind, we Mortals blind,
 We can't behold thy bright Abode;
 O'tis beyond a Creature-Mind,
 To glance a Thought half way to God!
- 2 Infinite Leagues beyond the Sky
 The great Eternal reigns alone,
 Where neither Wings nor Souls can fly,
 Nor Angels climb the toples Throne.
- The Lord of Glory builds his Seat Of Gems infufferably bright, And lays beneath his facred Feet Substantial Beams of gloomy Night.
- 4 Yet, glorious Lord, thy gracious Eyes
 Look thro' and chear us from above;
 Beyond our Praise thy Grandeur flies,
 Yet we adore, and yet we love.

XXVII. Praise ye him all his Angels; Psal. 148. 2.

- That the whole heavinly Army fears,
 That fhakes the wide Creation's Frame,
 And Satan trembles when he hears.
- 2 Like Flames of Fire his Servants are, And Light furrounds his Dwelling Place; But, O ye fiery Flames, declare The brighter Glories of his Face.

3 'Tis not for fuch poor Worms as we To fpeak so infinite a Thing'; But your immortal Eyes survey The Beauties of your Sov'reign King.

B. II.

- 4 Tell how he shews his smiling Face, And clothes all Heav'n in bright Array; Triumph and Joy run thro' the Place, And Songs eternal as the Day.
- 5. Speak (for you feel his burning Love)
 What Zeal it spreads thro'all your Frame;
 That sacred Fire dwells all above,
 For we on Earth have lost the Name.
- [6 Sing of his Pow'r and Justice too, That infinite Right Hand of his That vanquish'd Satan and his Crew, And Thunder drove them down from Blis.]
- [7 What mighty Storms of poison'd Darts
 Were hurl'd upon the Rebels there!
 What deadly Jav'lins nail'd their Hearts
 Fast to the Racks of long Despair!]
- [8 Shout to your King, you heav'nly Host;
 You that beheld the finking Foe,
 Firmly ye stood when they were lost;
 Praise the rich Grace that kept ye so.]
- 9 Proclaim his Wonders from the Skies, Let ev'ry distant Nation hear; And while you found his lofty Praise, Let humble Mortals bow and fear.

XXVIII. Death and Eternity.

- Toop down, my Thoughts, that use to Converse a while with Death: (rise, Think how a gasping Mortal lyes, And pants away his Breath.
- His quiv'ring Lip hangs feebly down, His Pulles faint and few, Then speechless with a doleful Groan He bids the World adieu.
- 3 But, O the Soul that never dies!
 At once it leaves the Clay!
 Ye Thoughts, pursue it where it flies,
 And track its wond'rous Way.
- 4. Up to the Courts where Angels dwell,
 It mounts triumphing there,
 Or Devils plunge it down to Hell
 In infinite Despair.
- 5 And must my Body faint and die?

 And must this Soul remove?

 O for some Guardian Angel nigh

 To bear it safe above!
- My naked Soul I trust,
 And my Flesh waits for thy Command:
 To drop into, my Dust.

XXIX. Redemption by Price and Power.

JESUS, with all thy Saints above, My Tongue would bear her Part, Would found aloud thy faving Love, And fing thy bleeding Heart.

2 Blest be the Lamb, my dearest Lord, Who bought me with his Blood, And quench'd his Father's staming Sword In his own vital Flood.

The Lamb that freed my Captive Soul.

From Satan's heavy Chains,
And fent the Lion down to howl

Where Hell and Horror reigns.

4 All Glory to the dying Lamb,
And never ceasing Praise,
While Angels live to know his Name,
Or Saints to feel his Grace.

XXX. Heavenly Joy on Earth.

We're

157 We're marching thro' Immanuel's Ground To fairer Worlds on high.

Christ's Presence XXXI. Death easy.

What sim's war war What tim'rous Worms we Mortals Death is the Gate of endless Joy, And yet we dread to enter there.

2 The Pains, the Groans, and dying Strife Fright our approaching Souls away; Still we shrink back again to Life, Fond of our Prison and our Clay.

3 O, if my Lord would come and meet, My Soul should stretch her Wings in haste, Fly fearless thro' Death's Iron Gate, Nor feel the Terrors as she past.

4 Jesus can make a dying Bed -Feel foft as downy Pillows are, While on his Breast I lean my Head, And breathe my Life out sweetly there, XXXII. Frailty and Folly.

I HOW short and hasty is our Life ! How vast our Souls Affairs! Yet fenfeles Mortals vainly strive To lavish out their Years.

a Our Days run thoughtlessy along, Without a Moment's stay,

Just like a Story or a Song We pass our Lives away.

3 God from on high invites us home, But we march heedless on, And ever hast'ning to the Tomb, Stoop downwards as we run.

4 How we deferve the deepest Hell
That slight the Joys above!
What Chains of Vengeance should we feel.
That break such Cords of Love!

5 Draw us, O God, with Sovereign Grace, And lift our Thoughts on high, That we may end this mortal Race, And fee Salvation nigh.

XXXIII. The bleffed Society in Heaven.

- R Aife thee, my Soul, fly up and run
 Thro' ev'ry heav'nly Street,
 And fay, There's nought below the Sun
 That's worthy of thy Feet.
- Thus will we mount on facred Wings,
 And tread the Courts above;
 Nor Earth, nor all her mightiest. Things
 Shall tempt out meanest Love.]
- There on a high majestick Throne.

 Th' Almighty Father reigns,

 And sheds his glorious Goodness down

 On all the blissful Plains.
- 4 Bright, like a Sun, the Saviour fits,
 And spreads eternal Noon;

No Evinings there, nor gloomy Nights, To want the feeble Moon.

5. Amidst those ever-shining Skies Behold the facred Dove,

While banish'd Sin and Sorrow flies. From all the Realms of Love.

6 The glorious Tenants of the Place Stand bending round the Throne; And Saints and Seraphs fing and praise The Infinite Three-One.

[7] But O what Beams of heav'nly Grace Transport them all the while! Ten thousand Smiles from Jesus' Face, And Love in every Smile 17

2 Look, how we gravel here below, Fond of the lestrifling Toys; wild Our Souls can neither fly nor go To reach eternal Joys.

- In vain we tune our formal Songs,
 In vain we strive to rife;
 Hosannas languish on our Tongues,
 And our Devotion dies.
- 4 Dear Lord! and shall we ever lie
 At this poor dying rate?
 Our Love so faint, so cold to thee?
 And thine to us so great?
- 5 Come, Holy Spirit, Heav'nly Dove, With all thy quick'ning Pow'rs, Come, shed abroad a Saviour's Love, And that shall kindle ours.

XXXV. Praise to God for Creation and Redemption.

- LET them neglect thy Glory, Lord, Who never knew thy Grace, But our loud Song shall still record. The Wonders of thy Praise.
- 2 We raife our Shouts, O God, to thee, And fend them to thy Throne, All Glory to th' UNITED Three, The Undivided One.
- 3 'Twas He (and we'll adore his Name) That form'd us by a Word, 'Tis He restores our ruin'd Frame: Salvation to the Lord!

3. II. Spiritual Songs.

Rocks, Hills and Vales reflect the Voice In one Eternal Round.

XXXVI. Christ's Intercession.

TwEll, the Redeemer's gone,
T' appear before our God,
To fprinkle o'er the flaming Throne
With his atoning Blood.

2 No fiery Vengeance now,
Nor burning Wrath comes down;
If Justice call for Sinners Blood,
The Saviour shows his own.

3 Before his Father's Eye
Our humble Suit he moves,
The Father lays his Thunder by,
And looks, and fmiles, and loves.

4 Now may our joyful Tongues Our Maker's Honour fing, Jefus the Priest receives our Songs, And bears 'em to the King.

[5 We bow before his Face, And found his Glories high, "Hosanna to the God of Grace "That lays his Thunder by.]

6 "On Earth thy Mercy reigns,
"And triumphs all above;

But, Lord, how weak are mortal Strains To speak immortal Love?

[7 How jarring and how low Are all the Notes we fing?

Sweet

Sweet Saviour, tune our Songs anew, And they shall please the King.]

XXXVII. The same.

- LIFT up your Eyes to th' heav'nly Seats
 Where your Redeemer flays;
 Kind Intercessor, there he fits,
 And loves, and pleads, and prays.
- 2 'Twas well, my Soul, he dy'd for thee, And shed his vital Blood, Appeas'd stern Justice on the Tree, And then arose to God.
- 3 Petitions now and Praise may rise, And Saints their Off'rings bring, The Priest with his own Sacrifice Presents them to the King.
- [4 Let Papifts trust what Names they please, Their Saints and Angels boast; We've no such Advocates as these, Nor pray to th' heav'nly Host.]
- 5 Jesus alone shall bear my Cries Up to his Father's Throne:
- He (dearest Lord) perfumes my Sighs,
 And sweetens ev'ry Groan.
- [6 Ten thousand Praises to the King, Hosanna in the high'st; Ten thousand Thanks our Spirits bring To God and to his Christ.]

XXXVIII. Love to God.

- Where Love inspires the Breast:

 Love is the brightest of the Train,

 And strengthens all the rest.
- 2 Knowledge, alas! 'tis all in vain, And all in vain our Fear, Our stubborn Sins will fight and reign, If Love be absent there.
- 3 'Tis Love that makes our chearful Feet In swift Obedience move, The Devils know and tremble too, But Satan cannot love.
- When Faith and Hope shall cease;
 "Tis this shall strike our joyful Strings
 In the sweet Realms of Bliss.
 - 5 Before we quite for ake our Clay, Or leave this dark Abode, The Wings of Love bear us away To fee our smiling God.

XXXIX. The Shortness and Misery of Life.

TO UR Days, alas! our mortal Days, Are short and wretched too;

Byil!

- * Evil and Few, the Patriarch fays, And well the Patriarch knew.
- 2 'Tis but at best a narrow Bound That Heav'n allows to Men, And Pains and Sins run thro' the Round Of Threescore Years and ten.
- 3 Well, if ye must be sad and sew, Run on, my Days, in Haste. Moments of Sin, and Months of Woe, Ye cannot sly too fast.
- And call her to the Skies,
 Where Years of long Salvation roll,
 And Glory never dies.

XL. Our Comfort in the Covenant made with Christ.

- UR God, how firm his Promise stands, Ev'n when he hides his Face; He trusts in our Redeemer's Hands His Glory and his Grace.
- 2 Then why, my Soul, these sad Complaints
 Since Christ and we are One?
 Thy God is faithful to his Saints,
 Is faithful to his Son.
- 3 Beneath his Smiles my Heart has liv'd, And part of Heav'n possest;

 And living Waters gently roll,
 Fain would my Thoughts leap out and fly,
 But Sin hangs heavy on my Soul.
 - 2 Thy wondrous Blood, dear dying Christ, Can make this Load of Guilt remove; And thou canst bear me where thou sly'st, On thy kind Wings, Celestial Dove!
- O might I once mount up and see
 The Glories of th' eternal Skies,
 What little Things these Worlds would be!
 How despicable to my Eyes!
 - Had I a Glance of thee, my God, Kingdoms and Men would vanish soon, Vanish as tho' I saw 'em not, As a dim Candle dies at Noon.
- Then they might fight, and rage, and rave,
 I should perceive the Noise no more
 Than we can hear a shaking Leaf,
 While rattling Thunders round us roar.
- 6 Great All in All, Eternal King, Let me but view thy lovely Face, And all my Pow'rs shall bow and fing, Thine endless Grandeur, and thy Grace.

XLII. Delight in God.

- MY God, what endless Pleasures dwell Above at thy Right Hand! The Courts below, how amiable, Where all thy Graces stand!
- 2 The Swallow near thy Temple lies, And chirps a chearful Note; The Lark mounts upward to thy Skies, And tunes her warbling Throat.
- And we, when in thy Presence, Lord, We shout with joyful Tongues, Or sitting round our Father' Board, We crown the Feast with Songs.
- While Jesus Thines with quick ning Grace, We fing and mount on high; But if a Frown becloud his Face, We faint, and tire, and die.
- 15 Just as we see the lonesome Dove Bemoan her Widow'd State, Wandring she flies thro'all the Grove, And mourns her loving Mate.

XLIII. Christ's Sufferings and Glory.

- To Great Jehovah's Equal Son!
 Awake, my Voice, in Heav'nly Lays,
 Tell the loud Wonders he hath done.
 - 2 Sing how he left the Worlds of Light, And the bright Robes he wore above, How swift and joyful was his Flight On Wings of everlasting Love.
- [3 Down to this base, this sinful Earth, He came to raise our Nature high; He came t'atone Almighty Wrath; Jesus the God was born to die.]
 - [4 Hell and its Lions roar'd around, His precious Blood the Monsters spilt, While weighty Sorrows prest him down, Large as the Loads of all our Guilt.]
 - Deep in the Shades of gloomy Death, Th' Almighty Captive Pris'ner lay: Th' Almighty Captive left the Earth, And rose to everlasting Day.
 - Lift up your Eyes, ye Sons of Light, Up to his Throne of shining Grace, See what immortal Glories sit Round the sweet Beauties of his Face.
 - 7. Amongst a thousand Harps and Songs III

 Jesus the God exalted reigns,

 His facred Name fills all their Tongues,
 And ecchoes thro' the Heav'nly Plains.

XLIV. Hell; or, The Vengeance of God.

- WIth holy Fear, and humble Song. The dreadful God our Souls adore; Rev'rence and Awe becomes the Tongue That speaks the Terrors of his Pow'r.
- 2 Far in the Deep where Darkness dwells, The Land of Horror and Despair, Justice has built a dismal Hell, And laid her Stores of Vengeance there.
- [3 Eternal Plagues, and heavy Chains, Tormenting Racks and fiery Coals, And Darts t' inflict immortal Pains; Dy'd in the Blood of damned Souls.]
- [4 There Satan the first Sinner, lies, And roars, and bites his Iron Bands; In vain the Rebel strives to rise, Crusht with the weight of both thy Hands.]
- 5 There guilty Ghosts of Adam's Race Shriek out and howl beneath thy Rod; Once they could fcorn a Saviour's Grace, But they incens'd a dreadful God.
- 6 Tremble, my Soul, and kiss the Son; Sinners, obey the Saviour's Call; Else your Damnation hastens on, And Hell gapes wide to wait your Fall.

XLV. God's Condescension to our Worsbip.

- THY Favours, Lord, surprize our Souls;
 Will the Eternal dwell with us?
 What canst thou find beneath the Poles,
 To tempt thy Chariot downward thus?
- 2 Still might he fill his starry Throne, And please his Ears with Gabriel's Songs; But th' heav'nly Majesty comes down, And bows to hearken to our Tongues.
- Great God, what poor Returns we pay
 For Love so infinite as thine?
 Words are but Air, and Tongues but Clay,
 But thy Compassion's all Divine.

XLVI. God's Condescension to Humane Affairs.

- I UP to the Lord that reigns on high, And views the Nations from afar, Let everlasting Praises fly, And tell how large his Bounties are.
- Or with his Word, or with his Rod, His Goodness how amazing great! And what a condescending God!

XLVII. Glory and Grace in the Perfon of Christ.

- Awake my Soul, awake my Tongue;

 Hofanna to th' eternal Name,

 And all his boundless Love proclaim.
- 2 See where it shines in Jesus' Face, The brightest Image of his Grace: God in the Person of his Son Has all his mightiest Works out-done:

3 The spacious Earth, and spreading Flood Proclaim the wife, the pow'rful God, And thy rich Glories from afar, Sparkle in ev'ry rolling Star.

- 4 But in his Looks a Glory stands. The noblest Labour of thine Hands: The pleasing Lustre of his Eyes Out-shines the Wonders of the Skies.
- 5 Grace ! 'tis a sweet, a charming Theme; My Thoughts rejoice at Jesus' Name: Ye Angels, dwell upon the Sound, Ye Heav'ns, reflect it to the Ground.
- 6 O may I live to reach the Place Where he unvails his lovely Face, Where all his Beauties you behold, And fing his Name to Harps of Gold!

XLVIII. Love to the Creatures is dangerous.

- I HOW vain are all Things here below! How false, and yer how fair! Each Pleasure hath its Poison too, And ev'ry Sweet a Snare.
- 2 The brightest Things below the Sky Give but a flatt'ring Light; We should suspect some Danger nigh, Where we possels Delight.

LVIII. The Shortness of Life, and the Goodness of God.

Time! What at empty Vapour 'tis !
And Days how swift they are!
Swift as an Indian Arrow flies,
Or like a shooting Star.

[2 The present Moments just appear, Then slide away in haste, That we can never say, They're here, But only say, They're past.]

Our Life is ever on the Wing,
And Death is ever nigh;
The Moment when our Lives begin

- Great God, thy Sovereign Power impart
 To give the Word Success;
 Write the Salvation in my Heart,
 And make me learn the Grace.
- [6 Show my forgetful Feet the way That leads to Joys on high; There Knowledge grows without decay, And Love shall never die.]

CLXVI. The Divine Perfections.

- THOW shall I praise the eternal God,
 That Infinite unknown?
 Who can ascend his high Abode,
 Or venture near his Throne?
- [2 The great Invisible! He dwelts
 Conceal'd in dazling Light;
 But his All-searching Eye reyeals

XXIII. Grace and Glory by the Death of Christ.

[1 Sitting around our Father's Board
We raile our tuneful Breath;
Our Faith beholds her dying Lord,
And dooms our Sins to Death.]

We see the Blood of Jesus shed,
Whence all our Pardons rise;
The Simer views th' Atonement made,
And loves the Sacrifice.

Thy cruel Thorns, thy shameful Cross Procure us heav'nly Crowns; Our highest Gain springs from thy Loss, Our Healing from thy Wounds.

O 'tis impossible that we
 Who dwell in feeble Clay,
 Should equal Sufferings bear for thee,
 Or equal Thanks repay.

XXIV. Pardon and Strength from Christ.

- The Lord will his own Table blefs,
 And make the Feast Divine.
- We touch, we tafte the heav'nly Bread, We drink the facred Cup; With outward Forms our Senfe is fed, Our Souls rejoyce in Hope.
- We shall appear before the Throne Of our forgiving God. Drest in the Garments of his Son, And sprinkled with his Blood.
- 4 We shall be frong to run the Race, And climb the upper Sky;

Christ will provide our Souls with Grace, He bought a large Supply: [5 Let us indulge a cheerful Frame,

For Joy becomes a Feast; We love the Mem'ry of his Name More than the Wine we tafte.]

XXV. Divine Glories and our Graces.

HOW are thy Glories here display'd, Great God, how bright they shine, While at thy Word we break the Bread, And pour the flowing Wine!

- 2 Here thy revenging Justice stands And pleads its dreadful Cause; Here saving Mercy spreads her Hands Like Jesus on the Cross.
- 3 Thy Saints attend with every Grace, On this great Sacrifice;
 - And Love appears with chearful Face, And Faith with fixed Eyes.
- Our Hope in waiting Posture sits, To Heav'n directs her Sight; Here every warmer Passion meets, And warmer Pow'rs unite.
- 5 Zeal and Revenge perform their Part; And rifing Sin deflroy; Repentance comes with aking Heart; Yet not forbids the Joy.

6 Dear Saviour, change our Faith to Sight,

I Cannot perswade my self to put a full Period to these Divine Hymns, 'till I have address'd a special Song of Glory to God the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Tho' the Latin Name of it, Gloria Patri, be retained in our Nation from the Roman Clurch; and tho' there may be some Excesses of superstitious Honour paid to the Words of it, which may have wrought some unbappy Prejudices in weaker Christians, yet I believe it still to be one of the noblest Parts of Christian Worship. The Subject of it u Doctrine of the Trinity, which is that peculiar Glory of the Divine Nature, that our Lord Jesus Christ has so clearly revealed unto Men, and is so necessary to true Christianity. The Action is Praise, which is one of the most compleat and exalted Part of heavenly Worship. I have cast the Song into a Variety of Forms, and have fitted it by a plain Version or a larger Paraphrase, to be fung either alone, or at the Conclusion of another Hymn. I bave added also a few Hosannas, or Ascriptions of Salvation to Christ, in the same manner, and for the same end.

A Song of Praise to the ever-blessed Trinity, God the Father, Son and Spirit.

XXVI. 1st. Long Metre.

- BLest be the Father and his Love,
 To whose Celestial Source we owe
 Rivers of endless Joy above,
 And Rills of Comfort here below.
- 2 Glory to Thee, great Son of God, From whose dear wounded Body rolls A precious Stream of vital Blood, Pardon and Life for dying Souls.
- We give the facred Spirit Praise,
 Who in our Hearts of Sin and Woe
 Makes living Springs of Grace arise,
 And into boundless Glory flow.
- 4 Thus God the Father, God the Son, And God the Spirit we adore, That Sea of Life and Love unknown, Without a Bottom or a Shore.

XXVII. 1st. Common Metre.

The Honours of his Grace.

2 Glory to God the Son be paid, Who dwelt in humble Clay, And to redeem us from the Dead Gave his own Life away.

3 Glory to God the Spirit give, From whose Almighty Power Our Souls their heavinly Birth derive, And bless the happy Hour.

4 Glory to God that reigns above Th' Eternal Three and One, Who by the Wonders of his Love Has made his Nature known.

XXVIII. 1st. Short Metre.

I E T God the Father live
For ever on our Tongues 5
Sinners from his first Love derive
The Ground of all their Songs.

2 Ye Saints, imploy your Breath In Honour to the Son, Who bought your Souls from Hell and Death By offring up his own.

3 Give to the Spirit Praise
Of an immortal Strain,
Whose Light and Power and Grace conveys
Salvation down to Men.

XXXVII. Or thus.

Give to the Father Praise, Give Glory to the Son, And to the Spirit of his Grace Be equal Honour done.

XXXVIII. A Song of Praise to the Blessed Trinity. The 1st as the 148th Psalm.

To God the Father's Love

For all my Comforts here
And better Hopes above.

He fent his own
Eternal Son,
To die for Sins
That Man had done.

To God the Son belongs
Immortal Glory too,
Who bought us with his Blood
From everlasting Woe:
And now he lives,
And now he reigns,
And sees the Fruit
Of all his Pains.

To God the Spirit's Name Immortal Wordnip give, Whose new-creating Power Makes the dead Sinner Live: His Work compleats The great Defign, And fills the Soul With Joy Divine.

Almighty God, to Thee
Be endless Honours done;
The Undivided Three,
And the Mysterious One;
Where Reason fails
With all her Pow'rs,
There Faith prevails,
And Love adores.
